Please Read Me

- Check the message Welcome greeting published in the News Bulletin Board.
- Dear student please edit your profile uploading a photo where your face is clearly visible.
- The purpose of the virtual meetings is to answer questions and not to make a summary of the study material.
- This presentation is based on (Lewicki, Barry, and Saunders 2016, Chapter 8)

Purpose

Understand the role of power and the different sources from which this element arises in a negotiation.

Power in the context of a negotiation

- Power in the context of a negotiation refers to the ability of a negotiator to gain an advantage or increase the likelihood of approaching its target point.
- Power is important in a negotiation because it generates advantages and allows reaching a settlement point close to the target point.

Power in the context of a negotiation

Dealing with negotiations how have more power

- Advice to negotiators who are in low-power positions based on (Lewicki, Barry, and Saunders 2016, Chapter 8, p 199-201):
  - Diversify risk by entering into deals with several other partners.
  - Deal with a variety of different individuals and departments in the high-power party (Divide and Conquer).
  - Build coalitions with other low-power players to increase collective bargaining power.
  - If you have something to offer, make sure you offer it to more than one high-power party to generate competition between them.
